NOT MUCH CHANGE IN PERSONNEL OF NEXT U. S. SENATE

Republicans Lose Two in Indiana and North Dakota, Gain Two in Ohio and Nebraska —Senator Reed Swamps His Opponent in Missouri—Ralston Beats Beveridge

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—On the face of late senatorial returns tonight from middlewestern states, the Republicans apparently had lost two senators, in Indiana and North Dakota, but had gained two seats, in Ohio and Nebraska. There were no other switches in the party senatorial lineups threatened in these states.

In Indiana where the battle was particularly hot, Samuel Ralston, Democrat and former governor, had a goodly lead over Albert J. Beveridge, Republican and follower of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912. In North Dakota, Lynn J. Frazier, recalled Non-Partisan League governor, running for the senate as a Republican, was behind J. F. T. O'Connor, Democrat, with some Non-Partison League precinsts to be heard from.

The Ohio senatorial race was close, but on the face of the late returns Simeon D. Fess, Republican, had defeated Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat. The vote in Ohio had been hailed as a test of the Harding administration prectically every member of the cabinet having spoken there during the campaign. Carmi Thompson, President Harding's candidate for governor, apparently was defeated.

Among the upsets was the defeat of Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, Democratic flor leader during th administration of former President Wilson and candidate for reelection, by R. B. Howell, Republican. Senator Hitchcock conceded his own defeat at midnight. Charles M. Bryan, brother of William J. Bryan and Democratic candidate for the Nebraska governorship seemed to have defeated his Republican opponent, Charles H. Randall.

Among the senatorial contests in other middlewestern states, Senator James A Reed, of Missouri, led his Republican opponent, R. R. Brewster, by 5,000 votes in one of the most bitterly contested elections in the history of the state. The election was considered the first test of Senator Reed's power since he was twice unseated by a Democratic national convention on the orders of supporters of former President Wilson.

In the Iowa senatorial contest Smith Brookhart, Republican, led Clyde L. Herring, Democratic nominee by a nearly 2 to 1 vote. Mr. Brookhardt was regarded as a Progressive and had been accused by his political foes with having radical leanings. Gov. N. E. Kendall of Iowa, was leading J. R. Files, his Democratic opponent, by a heavy plurality.

In Michigan, Senator Charles E. Townsend led his Democratic opponent Woodbridge N. Ferris by an apaprently safe plurality, while, Governor A. G. Groesbeck, Republican, held a comfortable lead of the Democratic aspirant for his office, Alva M. Cummins.

LaFollette Gets 200,000

In Wisconsin Robert M. LaFollette, running as a Republican was held a sure victor over his opponent Mrs. Jessie Hooper, who headed the Democratic ticket by a majority estimated to exceed 200,000.

Seven of the state's Republican incumbent congresmen, all LaFollette supporters also were returned according to late returns.

In Milwaukee Victor L. Berger, Socialist who was twice refused a seat by a congress was leading in the fifth congressional district. In Texas Earle B. Mayfield, Democratic candidate for senator who got his name on the ballot at the eleventh hour when the supreme court dissolved injunctions which had been obtained against him defeated his independent Democrat and Republican opponent George E. B. Peddy who opposed the Ku Klux Klan.

On the face of the late returns, the Republican state ticket in Illinois appeared to be assured of a safe maority, altho the figures were menaced by a Democratic landslide in Cook county (Chicago) where every candidate, with one possible exception supported by Mayor Thompson, was defeated.

In the Illinois congressional race, William P. Holaday, Republican, won the seat vacated by "Uncle Joe" Cannon, in the 18th district.

Wine and Beer Issue.

On the light wines and beer issue, the vote at midnight in Illinois and Ohio showed a margin against prohibition. In Chicago, the vote was nearly three to one in favor of a modified form of prohibition enforcement. In Minnesota, A. J. Volstead, author of the prohibition amendment, apparently was defeated for reelection to congress by Rev. O. J. Kvale. In Iowa, Fred Hageman, Democrat, who made his campaign for congress on a light wine and beer platform defeated his Republican opponent by a vote of nearly two to one.

Among the women candidates Miss Alice Robertson, Republican of Oklahoma, the only woman in congress was beaten by her Democratic opponent W. W. Hastings, whom she deefated two years ago. In Missouri Mrs. St. Clair Moss was running second to her male Republican opponent in the eighth congressional district and in Illinois Mrs. Winnifred Huck apparently was elected congressman at large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father William Mason.

Soldiers bonus measures apparently were assured of victory inIllinois and Kansas. In both states the early votes showed a three to one vote in favor of adjusted compensation.

FRANCE STILL IN FEAR OF ATTACK FROM GERMANY

Former Minister Says Better Forego Reparations and be Secure

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 7—France might better forego payment from Germany than to be endangered by a new attack from a resuscitated country across the Rhine, Louis Loucheur, former minister of Liberated regions told the chamber of deputies today.

"If by one of these plans," he said, discussing proposals for rehabilitation of Germany during the debate on the budget, Germany is made strong what will be come of France's security?"

"I tell you bluntly, that, between not being paid and not being in security, I would rather be in security."

This statement brought strong applause.

Premier Poincare interrupted M. Loucheur suggestions for a change in the administration of Rhineland with the declaration that that territory would not be evacuated until Germany had fulfilled the treaty requirements.

AIR FORCES NOW IN POSITION TO DEFEND COASTS

Assistant Chief of Air Service Says Can Do It Easily

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service announced today on arrival from the bombing tests held yesterday in Hampton Roads that protection of America's coasts now depended upon the nation's air forces backed by a good army.

Air bombers, he said had supplanted coast artillery men as a protective military weapon adding that the Demonstration yesterday eclipsed anything ever before attempted by aviators from a standpoint of accuracy in bombing and potential defense strength of air craft.

"Five Martin bombers, loaded with full equipment including four 300 pound dummy bombs to the ship, bombed two targets under towage from a height of between 3,200 feet to 3,700 feet," General Mitchell said, "and every bomb dropped was effective possibly with one exception. The accuracy of this fire is without parallel, especially since the targets were only 20 by 20 feet in size."

General Mitchell declared it was possible now to protect the Atlantic coast from Chesapeake Bay to Boston with a "couple of pursuit groups of aircraft."

"Give us a base in New Jersey,' he said, "and we could reach any point threatened on that part of the coast with two hours notice of the approach of an enemy."

Experience has enabled pilots to operate at all times weather conditions notwithstanding it was asserted confidently.

"Airplanes positively can guarantee defense of the coasts," he said, "and with greater economy to the nation than any other arm of the military establishment."

WOMEN HAD THEIR INNING IN FRENCH SENATE TUESDAY

Urged Granting of Vote to Women Approved Three Years Ago

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 7—Women had their inning in the senate today when the first two speakers in the suffrage debate urged the granting of the vote to women, which the chamber approved three years ago, but the conservative senate opposed.

The senators were coldly silent, but the women crowding the galleries applauded boisterously. Senator Gourju said that 138,000,000 women had been given the right to vote, but France was backward. He cited the Colorado juvenile court as one of the results of the voting power of women.

The women are hopeful of victory because M. Viviani, always their friend is now in the senate and the cabinet discussion this morning indicated that the government favors some form of suffrage.

CONSTANTINOPLE MAY BE DECLARED IN STATE OF SEIGE

Allied Commissioners Given Full Power to Take Action

(By The Associated Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7—The allied commissioners in Constantinople have been given full authority to declare a state of siege or take any other measures to preserve order.

This was the response of the allied governments to the cabled requests of the high commissioners for permission to take complete and speedy action. It is now certain that the allied authorities here will deal with any attempts at disturbance of infringements of the Mudania convention in a drastic manner.

British, French and Italians are as one in their determination to check the powerful movement which the Kemalist have set in motion. The British have at no time since the intentions of the Turkish nationalists were made evident relaxed their vigilance, and now French warships are about to proceed her on their way to strengthen the allied authority.

Lieutenant General Harington, commander-in-chief of the allied forces has informed Rafet Pasha, the new governor, that he would permit no usurpation of the allied authority and Rafet explained that the sweeping demands for evacuation of the allied military forces and for other concessions came from the Angora government. The Kemalist even have attempted to take over the customs revenues, but the British authorities have decided to operate the customs themselves.

The calling of three additional classes to the Turkish colors is interpreted by allied officials here as merely a show for force.

TOLL OF EXPLOSION IN SPANGLER MINE NOW NUMBERS EIGHTY

Five More Bodies Were Brought Out Late Yesterday Afternoon—Thirty Two Were Rescued—Believe That the Explosion Was Caused by An Open Lamp in the Mine

(By The Associated Press)

SPANGLER, Pa., Nov. 7.—The Reilly Coal company's mine swept by a gas explosion yesterday morning was cleared of its dead today.

Late this afternoon rescue crews brought out five bodies —believed to be the lest in the workings. This brought the total known dead to 80. Thirty two miners were rescued.

Officials of the company declared a recheck of their records made it practically certain that 112 men were in the mine when the explosion took place. The total of listed survivors includes six miners who were in the cage when the flood of gas and smoke issued from the mouth of the shaft.

The total dead includes the three miners, rescued alive, who failed to regain consciousness. Further search of the headings was made tonight. Mine officials and rescue men realized that one or two men might have entered the mine yesterday without reporting to their boss. All miners listed as missing have been accounted for.

Quiet precision which marked removal of the corpses to the morgue was evident tonight as preparations for the funerals got under way. Identified bodies were removed from the morgue as quickly as they were claimed. Company officials notified widows and relatives that they will take charge of the funeral arrangements, if desired.

A number of bodies will be buried tomorrow. Most of the victims were Roman Catholics and their pastors, who figured conspicuously in relief activities, arranged to conduct the last rites of the church in two small cemeteries where a number of volunteers are digging graves tonight.

Preliminary to an investigation to determine, if possible, the cause of the explosion mine experts spent considerable time in the workings today.

They confirmed declarations previously made by company officials that the men who escaped from the heading owe their lives to the fact that force of the explosion found a double outlet.

When the gas was ignited possibly by an open lamp, the flame roared out thru the fan house while the gas and smoke traveled thru the main heading in the other direction and shot to the surface thru the shaft. The consequence was that little derbis was dislodged and miners who were conscious were able to stagger to the fresh air zone at the sixth heading, where they were found by the first rescue party.

HERRIN MURDER TRIALS WILL BE STARTED TODAY

48 Men Will be on Trial for Killing of Howard Hoffman

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Nov. 7.—Trials of the forty-eight men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin mine killings which occurred around the Lester strip mine, June 21 and 22, are scheduled to start in circuit court tomorrow before Judge D. T. Hartwell. The forty-eight will be arranged for the death of Howard Holman, said to be the first employe of the Southern Illinois Coal company who was shot after the surrender of the mine employes. When the forty-eight defendants are brought into court tomorrow it has been announced the indictments against many will be Nole prosquied thus reducing the number of men to be tried for Hofman's death to probably six.

Selection of the jury probably will not start for several days. A venire of 130 has been summoned from whom the jurors will be chosen. In challenging the veniremen for the state, it is assumed, State's Attorney Duty will take the principal part while George White, a local attorney is expected to represent the defense in the selection of the jury. MINER'S FAMOUS THEATER DAMAGED BY FIRE TUESDAY

Was One of Most Noted Playhouses in Country 30 Years Ago

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—Fire today seriously damaged Miners' Theater, at 165 Bowery, which 30 years ago was one of the most famous playhouses in the country. The balcony was almost destroyed and water poured on the blaze flooded parts of the old auditorium, once a nightly gathering place for Manhattan theatergoers.

Miners' Theater once was one of a group whose fame was not bounded by city limits. It was classed with Harry Williams' in Pittsburgh, Hyde and Beeman's in Brooklyn, the Boston Atheneum, and Tony Pastor's.

When "Sand Dancers" were in vogue, and the cake walk was considered quite snappy, such performers as the Roger Brothers, Weber and Fields, and Hines and Remington, captured audiences when their wares went over the comparatively dismal lights of 30 years ago.

The four Cohans played there, old timers recall, and among them George M., of all the quartet the best known today.

Pat Roonel soft-shoed his way over the boards of Miners'.

Of late the theater had been devoted to Italian vaudeville and motion pictures. In dollars the loss was listed today at $10,000.

A THOUGHT

Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule; let us mind the same thing.—Philippians 3:16.

If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter;
If any little care of mine
May make a friend's the fleeter
If any lift of mine may ease
The burden of another,
God give me love, and care, and strength,
To help a toiling brother.

Six of the war prisoners held under the espionage act have been granted conditional pardons by President Harding. Three of them are aliens, and they will be given their freedom only on condition that they leave the country. If they ever return they will be put in prison again. The others must agree to be law-abiding in the future and not to advocate lawlessness. The Department of Justice makes it plain that its action in these cases is not to be taken as a forerunner of general amnesty to war prisoners. The six cases were carefully selected and investigated by the Department before pardons were decided upon.

The essence of the ship subsidy bill now pending in Congress is the provision that creates a joint board, made up from the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Shipping Board, whose duty it shall be to secure proper cooperation between rail and water transportation systems. "This means," says a member of the Board, "that our duties then will begin at the gateway of the farm or factory, and end only when their products are safely in warehouses abroad." Agricultural producers and manufacturers thruout the country are coming to a keener realization of their personal interest in the enactment of the legislation. When the measure is again taken up on the reconvening of Congress, popular support will insure its early passage.

Illinois has reason to be proud of the progress made in road building, but the state is by no means alone in this progress. Even in North Carolina several thousand miles of roads have been built since 1919. That state in the matter of good roads now ranks only second to Pennsylvania. A number of the southern states are making continuous upward progress and now occupying places that did not seem at all possible ten years ago.

The success which attends the operation of the absentee voters law in Morgan county gives some encouragement to those who advocate a plan of having all voting done by mail. There would without doubt be many complications in any such system, but it is also true that there are numerous faults that can be justly folund with the present system. Voting by mail exclusively would be a radical change but not more radical than some other changes that have come to pass in twenty years' time.

INTEREST SHOWN IN AGRICULTURE

Sixteen newly organized departments of vocational agriculture in public high schools have applied to the State Board of approval. One hundred and thirty-two high schools representing sixty-four counties have reported regularly organized departments and a number have organized courses but are not applying for reimbursement this year.

The enrollment in most departments has increased over last year's numbers, the largest enrollment being reported by the Murphysboro high school where ninety-two boys are taking agriculture. Two teachers are employed in this department.

The program for agricultural education in the state can be made more adequate by extending the service to those counties that do not have an agriculture department at this time, thus giving opportunity to any boy who wishes to prepare for farming to find a course in agriculture within his home county. The State Board will render any possible service to schools in these counties wishing to organize departments.

WHEN IN NEED OF CHEER

Optimism flourishes in the open air. Religion was purest in the groves. The sun, the wind, the turf underfoot, the trees, the "outdoors" all contribute to the finest and happiest of human emotions. Spring and autumn have ever been the seasons best loved by men because they woo them with the beauty of nature, and inspire them with the sense of freedom and power that cannot be felt between the walls or under cover.

The sea, the plains, the open spaces everywhere contribute to health, both of body and mind, and the skies, both in day and in night, yield a message of hope and of comfort to all who look up.

Weary, wasted, disappointed and sorrowing men renew their courage and strength, buffeted as they have been by the city, when they wander to the edge of the lake or the sea and look up and out to the clouds and the eternal expanse of waters.

Now autumn is preparing her scarlet and golden glories, her air that is like wine, her breezes and frosts, her impulses and ambitions for all who will walk out and take them where they are clean and peaceful and have opportunity to dissipate blues and megrims and the false fears and ugly thoughts bred by the dirt and discomforts, the excitements and crowds of the cities. Half a dozen Sundays in the open during October and November will find a sound man with sufficient optimism to enable him to carry on all winter. Nature is the great mind restorer. No art of man, however costly, has ever equalled a sunrise or a sunset, a stiff breeze on a hill, or a patch of woods as a reviver of mental energies.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Around the Corner

By Berton Braley

IT AIN'T so much the things you get that make you like to live;
The fun of your possessions is a fun that's fugitive,
And nearly every blessing comes in time to be a bore—
But the pleasure lies in guessing what the future has in store,
And that's what makes tomorrow such a day of mystery,
For just around the corner is the thing we want to see.

WE live in expectation, and though dreams of yesterday
Today have gone a-glimmer in a disappointing way,
We still continue curious and eager, as we seek
What may occur tomorrow or the middle of next week.
Today is dull as yesterday—but still we are aglow,
For just around the corner is the thing we want to know.

WHAT'S just around the corner may be nothing new or strange,
But ever in our heart of hearts we nurse the hope of change,
And just beyond our vision there's an undetermined chance
Of glorious adventure and of fairy-tale romance,
And so wee keep on going with a thrilled expectant mind,
For just around the corner is the thing we hope to find!

YES AND NO

(NEA)

Are we "kidding" ourselves when we talk about the great advantages derived from labor-saving devices?

The Pennsylvania Railroad prints this on the cover of its dining car menu:

"Millions of tons of ore are carried in solid trainloads over the Pennsylvania system every year to feed the blast furnaces of the iron and steel industry

"In order to transfer the ore from cargo boats of the Great Lakes to railroad cars, the Pennsylvania system operates giant electric unloading machines at its ore docks on Lake Erie.

"Prior to 1882 this work was done by hand-shovel and wheelbarrow at the rate of about 100 tons a day.

"Today four machines at Cleveland can empty a vessel and load cars at the rate of 3000 tons an hour."

The actual mining and transportation of iron ore have also been speeded up by labor-saving devices, the same as handling the ore at the docks.

All this is generally accepted as "more economical."

However, in the days when iron ore was handled by wheel-barrow and hand-shovel, the ore cost $4 a ton at Lake Erie docks.

Today the price is between $5 and $6 a ton.

It looks as if, the more economical the process, the higher the cost.

You find the same state of contradiction in wheat. In 1860 the cash price of wheat at Chicago was as low as 66 cents a bushel. Today, even with farm prices far too low compared with other prices, wheat costs a lot more than it did in 1860.

All this, despite the introduction of tremendous labor-saving devices and processes in growing the wheat and shipping it to market.

In general, it seems that labor-saving devices tend to increase selling price, on the average and in the long run.

This is counteracted by two important things:

First: The buying power of the dollar has changed. A dollar represents less buying power, today, than 50 cents did when grandpa was a boy. Every one has more dollars, too, so the dollar is not a fair measure of price.

Second: The introduction of labor-saving devices and processes has released human labor for other work. This enables humanity to produce thousands of articles for general use, where in the old days such commodities were numbered by the hundreds. We of today have a wider assortment of articles, both necessities, and luxuries, than a few generations ago.

That is the long-range trend, a higher standard of living. Price is secondary. When a dollar would buy almost anything, as old men put it "the trouble was, no one had the dollar."

ALL DAY PRAYER SERVICE IS SUCCESS

Many Gather at Central Christian Church to Pray for Success of Prohibition—Fine Talks Heard

Many attended the all day prayer service and exposition of the scriptures held yesterday at Central Christian church. The purpose of the meeting was prayer for the success of prohibition and the defeat of the beer and light wines proposition.

The general trend of the meeting was along the benefits to be derived from a saloonless city and nation. Many clergymen participated in the meeting. Stirring addresses were given by Dr. Thomas W. Smith and Dr. F. M. Rule. Dr. Smith presented by request a sermon that had met favor at his church a short time ago. He dwelt with the advantages that the nation has derived from its four years of prohibition.

Dr. Rule gave an address of thanksgiving. He expressed his joy that the country was now dry and assured his hearers that he was sure it would remain so.

In the time allotted to him Dr. Rule enumerated certain causes for thanksgiving. First, the providential leadership of our Heavenly Father. Second, for the organizations which for more than fifty years have fought heroically for prohibition. Those worthy of special mention he listed as the W. C. T. U., the Anti-Saloon league, the prohibition party and more recently the Inter-Collegiate association. Third, that the government of the people, for the people, by the people, has expressed by large majority popular vote, by congress, by the supreme court, the conviction that prohibition is right. Fourth, for the leaders of the learned professions, the leading industries, the commercial institutions, the various groups, lodges, agricultural associations, labor unions and public press, all increasingly favoring entire prohibition. Fifth for the plans being made for universal prohibition. Sixth, for the hope of victory for the state and county in the day's election.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Meeting of State Horticulture Society. This meeting is scheduled for Bloomington, November 17th and 18th. The meeting will be of particular interest to vegetable growers. Dean Watts of Pennsylvania State College, Dr. J. W. Lloyd of the University of Illinois and Dr. Paul Work of Cornell University will be the most prominent speakers.

Fall Plowing of Garden

This means an early garden in the spring. Instead of burning all the leaves try covering the garden now and plowing under. Later additions may be burned on top of the garden. If possible cover the garden with a coating of well rotted manure. If this is not available apply bone meal and then next spring top this with hydrated lime and either dried blood or nitrate of soda. The early garden is the one that pays.

Dunlap Police Bill

Senator H. M. Dunlap will again foster state Police Bill for Illinois when our legislature meets in 1922. There will be a disposition to substitute a substitute bill instead and the people are warned to look out for anything to which Dunlap's name is not attached.

Soy Bean Market

The buying of soy beans for commercial purposes has stimulated considerable activity in seed houses. We are receiving numerous inquiries from reliable firms who are interested in buying in carload lots. The seed companies are willing to pay somewhat more than the manufacturers of oil.

Morgan County Shipping Association At Work

F. V. Correa, Manager of the Shipping Association, with headquarters at Jacksonville, made a shipment of cattle to St. Louis, Tuesday. There were six consignors to this load. E. R. Hembrough, Harry Kitner, J. M. Stewart, William Paul, W. R. Burmeister, John Lewis. The prices received were satisfactory. Mr. Correa requests parties wishing to ship thru the association to notify him ten days in advance of the time they expect the stock to be ready to ship. If this is done he can get out the load on time with greater certainty. He also wishes the people to get together at points where there is not now an active shipping association and let him know what they have to ship from that point.

Club Work

There is a place in Morgan county at the present time for three types of club work. Namely: baby beef, pig and poultry. The farm adviser is thoroly convinced that we ought to standardize our clubs by requiring five from a community with someone as local leader. The county wide plan is not very satisfactory, altho we have tried it here for three years. This decision is in line with the opinion formed by other farm advisers where club work has been handled. Farm Adviser should be very glad to hear of any boy or girl who would be interested in feeding a baby beef begining Dec. 1st and continuing until next fair time. In some counties they have shipped in carloads of calves, but in most counties they prefer to let the club members select their own beef. In the case of a poultry project, the boy or girl keeps a record of ten fowls or in some cases the whole flock. This project requires them to keep a record of the eggs laid, of those used at home, those sold and the poultry used at home and sold and total amount of feed used. One girl in one of our northern counties had a record book on exhibition at the farm advisers conference showing a profit of $149.00. This project should start very soon.

LOCAL RESIDENT DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Mrs. Neaty Beerup Victim of Heart Disease — Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Completed.

The death of Mrs. Neaty Beerup occurred very suddenly Tuesday morning about 8:30 o'clock at the family home, 345 North Sandy street. Mrs. Beerup was engaged in washing clothes at the time she was stricken and her death came within a few minutes.

The circumstances surrounding Mrs. Beerup's death were such that Coroner C. A. Ross held an inquest at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Cody funeral parlors where the remains had been removed.

Two daughters of the deceased, Alberta and Lillian Beerup, who were with her at the time she was stricken with illness, gave the principal testimony at the inquest.. They described the way in which their mother was taken suddenly ill and of summoning a physician from a neighbor's home by telephone.

Dr. H. C. Weltman was the physician summoned to the Beerup home, which he reached some minutes after the death of Mrs. Beerup. Dr. Weltman gave it as his opinion that the cause of Mrs. Beerup's death was angina poctoris, a disease of the heart.

After hearing the testimony the jury returned a verdict finding that Mrs. Beerup's death was caused from heart disease. The jurors were Harley Adams, foreman; F. L. Sharpe, George Smith, Arch Norris, L. Killam and Paul Wood.

The deceased was born in Bond county, this state, July 16, 1870. Her marriage to Andrew Beerup occurred in 1886 in this city, the husband passing away several years ago.

They were the parents of thirteen children, for of whom preceded their mother in death. The surviving children are Mrs. Eva Stringham, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Roy Hyles, Jacksonville; Mrs. Irene Stants, White Hall; Mrs. Hazel Tucker, Jacksonville; George, Fred, Alberta, Earle and Lillian Beerup, all residing at home.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed and are awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Stringham from the west.

MAN ON BICYCLE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

W. A. Mayfield, a meter reader for the local Utilities corporation narrowly escaped serious injury. The presence of mind of Harold Dunlap, driver of the car in front of which he fell, was said to have prevented more serious casualty than cuts and bruises about the face and arms.

According to those who saw the accident, Dunlap was driving his mother, Mrs. Edith Dunlap, to the office of the Passavant hospital, and the car was just opposite the hospital when Mayfield swerved in front of the car, apparently not seeing it. Discovering his mistake he wavered, turning up over the curbing and falling. Dunlap turned quickly, running up over the curbing, and clearing the prostrate body of Mayfield, and stopping as soon as possible. No marks of injury due to the machine passing over him were found by Dr. Carl E. Black, who examined him.

Artificial aid is therefore to be expected and should always be resorted to at the first indication of failing eyesight. Call and let us fit you with the glasses your eyes require.

BRILLIANT ACTRESS WITH "THE CLIMAX"

Miss Mercedes Desmore, who is one of the many notable players to apear in "The Climax" to be presented here Friday, November 17, is a young and very brilliant actress, and has the additional good fortune of being most charming and beautiful.

Miss Densmore is English in training and temperament. She was born in London and acted when a child with such stage celebrities as Ellen Terry, Sir Beerbolm Tree, George Crossmith and Mrs. Lew Waller.

Upon her arrival in America about eight years ago she was immediately engaged to play the part of Joseph's sweetheart in "Joseph and his Brethren." At the close of this very successful engagement, she was selected by Margaret Illington to play opposite her in "The Lie" by Henry Arthur Jones. She played the part of the deceitful sister, and played it so well and with such a display of perfected technique and genuine ability that more than one critic wrote of her acting as rivalling that of Miss Illington's.

Her next engagement was as leading woman with Lou Tellegen in "A King from Nowhere."

Recently she has played with John and Lionel Barrymore in "Peter Ibbetson," with the New York production of "Three Live Ghosts," and with Mr. Lovell of London in some New York productions of Ibsen.

Miss Desmore will be especially featured in "The Climax" to be presented at the High school auditorium, Friday evening, Nov. 17 under the auspices of the Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women. The tickets are being sold now by members of the organization and can be reserved at Brown's Music Store.

OBITUARY.

Robert E., son of Isaac and Mary Bennett, was born near Prentice, June 2, 1841, and passed from life at the home of his niece, Miss Frances McDaniel, at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 1, 1922; having attained the advanced age of 81 years, 5 months, and 29 days. Almost his entire life was spent in and near the neighborhood of his birthplace.

"Uncle Bob," as he was familiarly known was the last of a family of eleven children and completes the family circle in the Great Unknown. For many years he has made his home with his niece, Miss Florence McDaniels, and in that home was his quiet and unselfish nature most appreciated; always mindful and considerate of others and as long as possible resuming the responsibility of life.

He leaves to mourn his departure several nephews and nieces, besides other near relatives and many friends, who will ever hold his memory in the highest esteem. To the niece with whom he resided is extended much sympathy for by her devotion to him has made many years of his life much happier and by her faithful and loving care, made the evening of his life so comfortable. He has been in failing health for some time, but his last illness was of short duration, after suffering a stroke of paralysis, the few remaining hours of his life were peaceful unconsciousness.

The Lord giveth and taketh away;
He is our refuge from day to day;
Gathering loved ones home to stay.
"Death loves a shining mark."

Funeral services for Robert E. Bennett were held at 10 o'clock Friday morning, November 3, 1922, at the Primitive Baptist church in Yatesville, conducted by Rev. J. A. Betcher, pastor of the M. E. church of Ashland. A large gathering of relatives and friends had assembled to pay a tribute of respect to one so widely and favorably known. The pastor talked in a most comforting way from Psalms 46:1. The lovely floral offerings were tenderly arranged by Mrs. Oliver McDaniel and daughter, Olive. Interment was in Yatesville cemetery, the bearers being: Charles Douglas, Harrison Robinson, Newton Nix, Oliver McDaniel, Harry Lohman and Eugent Clemons.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The moving picture at the High school was well attended last evening and was one of the most popular ones of this year's program. The film was Charlie Chaplain in "The Kid" with Jackie Coogan as co-star. The film next week will be "The 'Ole Swimmin' Hole," an adaptation from Riley's famous poem.

At the assembly exercises Tuesday morning plans were discussed for a crowd of boosters attending the Jacksonville-Springfield football game on Saturday in Springfield. Over two hundred students signified their intention of making the trip over to the Capital city to witness the scrap.

The Girl's Club met last evening at the close of school hours. The program of the meeting was in charge of the girls in group one and they presented a very attractive program. The girls appeared in costumes representing the different countries of the world and each girl sang a folk song, gave a dance or a reading characteristic of the country which she represented.

A WOMAN'S WAY

"I tried for months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know has helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

The Style Clothes of America

Remember the story of the father who gave his son paper, pen and ink, locking him in a huge library and told him to write a great poem. The boy had all the material but lacked imagination.

Beautiful all-wool fabrics are of little value until, by the wizardy of the tailor's needle, they are fashioned into a stylish garment.

It is this extraordinary skill, this imagination--if you please--that has made the Stratford Clothes above and apart from the usual in clothes. Small wonder that they are termed by young men of better dress "The Style Clothes of America."

Come in and see our Fall Display. A visit of inspection involves no obligation. We're always glad to see you.

TUESDAY ELECTION FRAUGHT WITH MANY SURPRISES

Majorities Given Successful Candidates Varied Remarkably—H. P. Samuell, Judge; G. L. Riggs, Clerk; Oyer Wright, Sheriff; Harry Norris, Treasurer; H. H. Vasconcellos, Superintendent of Schools, and G. A. Dunlap, Commissioner, Elected—Four Republicans and Two Democrats Chosen.

Because of the numerous scratched ballots, the returns from the Morgan county election yesterday were received much later than usual. In fact, the returns from several precincts had not been received at the office of the county clerk at 4 o'clock this morning.

Soon after returns did begin to come in, it was apparent that Judge H. P. Samuell and County Clerk Riggs had been re-elected to office by large majorities and that by practically an equal majority as that of the the County Clerk G. A. Dunlap had been chossen member of the county board.

While returns are still incomplete, it is apparent that Oyer Wright has defeated Charles S. Black for sheriff by a majority estimated to be between 200 and 300 votes. The majority of Harry Norris, treasurer, is between 70 and 100.

H. H. Vasconcolles is re-elected superintendent of schools by a margin of 300 or 400 votes.

Returns are still incomplete on questions of public policy, but the vote from the precincts received indicate that the soldiers bonus carried and that similar action was taken by Morgan county voters with reference to the tuberculosis sanatorium. The vote was quite evenly divided upon the question of the amendment of the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wine and beer.

It is safe to say that there has never been an election in this county in which party lines were so disregerded or in which so few straight tickets were voted. The great difference in the majorities given the various candidates afford the proof of this action on the part of the voters.

The vote given Senator Wheeler, independent, was not near as large as some of his friends had prophesied and Earl B. Searcy's vote combined with that received in Sangamon county, made his place certain in the state senate for the coming term.

Great differences were shown in the various precincts in the vote cast for Mr. Moore and Dr Rogers, the Republican candidates for member of the legislature. There was plumping in each case, but the average was fairly well maintained. Isidore Levin independent candidate, did not gain anything like the support that was given him in the primary.

In Sangamon county his vote was very light, as was true of Senotor Wheeler there, so that neither was very much in the running when the whole district was taken into account.

The tabulated vote for the several county offices is given, with the exception of the few precincts for which unofficial returns have not been received. However, it is not believed that the figures from these precincts will change the result as indicated above.

I THANK YOU

I desire publicly to express my thanks to the voters of Morgan county for the splendid vote given me in the election yesterday; and I thoroly appreciate the confidence this vote conveys. The public is assured of my continued earnest efforts to serve faithfully its interests in every respect.

HARDING GETS ELECTION RETURNS

Washington, Nov. 7.—Surrounded by members of his cabinet, several high officials of the administration and a half dozen close personal friends, President Harding received election returns tonight in his study in the white house.

Bulletins recording the count of ballots were received at the executive offices over a special Associated Press wire and sent directly to teh president. Other wires brought reports from Republican leaders in the various states, all affording the president information as to the measure of support he might expect from congress during the final half of his administration.

THANKS

I am profoundly grateful to my friends and the voters of Morgan County for the vote of confidence given me in yesterday's election. It is indeed gratifying and I shall always be appreciative of the handsome majority.

TREND OF RETURNS FAVORS DEMOCRATS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—At 2 A. M. Eastern Standard Time the trend of the returns in the elections for the senate and the house of representatives was in favor of the Democrats. With returns for more than half of the house complete the Republicans had not unseated a Democrat representative representative and Democratic candidates defeated 28 Republicans. To gain control of the house the Democrats must gain 80 seats.

The senate returns at that hour showed definitely one Democrat gain by the defeat of Senator Calder in New York. That was offset by a Republican gain of one in Nebraska where R. B. Howell had defeated Senator Hitchcock.

At 2 o'clock the congressional returns were complete from only 11 states.

S. W. NICHOLS MAKES VISIT TO SALT WORKS

Found Much of Interest in Inspection of Great Salt Work at Hutchinson, Kansas.

Tombstone, Ariz., Nov. 1, '22

Dear Journal:

In the mightiest sermon ever delivered on earth occur the words:

"Ye are the salt of the earth but if the salt have lost its savor wherewith shall it be salted? It is henceforth fit for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men" and Luke adds "Fit neither for the land nor the dunghill."

I have never yet heard a public speaker give a correct exposition of those words. They are the Master's scathing invective against hypocrisy. The salt we have is pure. Take a cup of it and put it in water and it will wholly dissolve leaving the water clear but in the days of our Blessel Lord the salt was not pure.

If a quantity were placed in a vessel with a strainer bottom the good salt, the savor, would dissolve and run out in brine while there would be left a residue looking exactly like salt but utterly worthless, fit for another" but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men."

This He meant for the hypocrites who put on all the appearance of righteousness and appear to man to be very good while they use every means to defray their fellow men so long as they can do it undetected. Hypocrisy was the one sin above all others denounced by Sinless One.

Man can get along without sugar or pepper; he could even, on a pinch do without butter or milk but be in a bad plight without salt. During the civil war some inland states of the so-called Confederacy suffered fearfully for lack of salt. In some cases the people swept up the loose earth in the smoke houses and leached it to get out a little salt. One man told me he made quite a fortune in handling salt; he didn't tell me just how he handled it and I maintained a discreet silence on the subject.

Sometimes people slowly evaporate sea water and near Salt Lake, Utah, there are rather extensive salt works deriving their supply from the intensely salt water of the great lake which is eighteen per cent mineral matter. It is supposed that when the pre-historic ocean was subsiding there was a depression here and where the Dead Sea is and the water being unable to get out remained there settling and getting more dense. The work there is by evaporation. The Dead Sea is twenty-two per cent and the size is in round numbers for forty-five miles and the river Jordan, which is really a good sized creek, flowing into it doesn't affect the depth nor the quality of the water and at times when the river is high a great deal of water goes down stream.

A large part of the world's supply of this invaluable substance is found in mines. The Siberian exiles under the despotic Russian monarchy were largely engaged in the production of salt. Generally when it is mined it comes from the earth in grey chunks such as stock men buy at the implement houses for their cattle.

At Threadwell gold mines of Alaska salt is put to a peculiar use. The chemist will tell you that the substance is a combination of chlorine and sodium and with suitable apparatus the constitutent parts are separated and the chlorine is used in extracting the precious metal from the crushed quartz of the mines. Chlorine is also used in preparing calico for the dresses our mothers and sisters used to wear when they emerged from homespun.

How well I remember when calico and gingham were called "store clothes' to designate them from the home spun material so commonly used and many time women and girls coing out in the new goods were looked on as aristocratic and stuck up while it was well nigh an unpardonable sin for a minister to appear at all in fashionable, tailor made garments. I can yet see the venerable Peter Cartwright in his broad beaver hat and blue jean suit as he used to appear before his audiences. He looked down on a man with a college education and up to date suit. This I have on unquestionale authority from men of his day.

Largest Works in Kansas

I wonder how many readers of the Journal, like myself, didn't know till a few weeks ago that the greatest salt works in the world, as claimed there, are in the suburbs of Hutchinson, Kan.

When the earth was in process of formation how singularly our Heavenly Father distributed His gifts. About Joliet He placed large deposits of lime stone; in the east immense quantities of hard coal and farther west the bituminous article; while here and there, notably near Hutchinson, vast beds of mineral salt.

No one knows the extent of them but they are three to four hundred feet thick. Think of it, a layer of almost pure salt four hundred feet from the surface and itself of such vast dimension.

Any one not acquainted with the methods of manufacture would be a long time guessing the process. Thru my esteemed friend Buford Hayden, I obtained permission to visit the works and a guide, Paul Bernholdt, well acquainted with all the processes and very polite, showed me thru. One would very naturally suppose they sunk shafts down to the salt and brought it up that way but they do nothing of the kind. They bore a six inch hole down thru the top layer of earth away into the salt and then run down it a pipe or casing and thru that pass the water pipes down into the salt.

Thru one of the water pipes fresh water is forced into the salt mines and thru the other brine comes up and is conveyed to the works thru pipes same as crude oil only a short distance. Some fifty wells supply the water for the purpose and when it comes up again it is clear as crystal but impregnated with salt.

They are discussing the question of sinking a shaft for the purpose of mining the rock salt but have not done so yet. I saw a chunk of it and is much clearer or whiter than the article I used to buy in the good old days to keep by my horse.

It was the works of the Carey Salt Co. that I visited and indeed it was interesting. Here were the great pipes bringing in the brine which looked innocent of any mineral material thru some odor indicated what was there.

Are Various Grades

All grades of salt are made from the coarest used for packing to the delicate articles for table use. The first named is produced in huge cauldrons and handled in bulk being shoveled in to a heap and loaded into freight cars in the same condition, in interior of the cars being washed carefully in advance.

Then comes a better grade. This is a story higher and the brine is run into shallow pans kept at boiling heat and so abundant is the residue that it is collected by automatic scrapers and drawn up looking exactly like snow. This is run into conveyers and taken to the proper places and prepared for use. Greater care is taken here to rid the product of all impurities.

In the top story is prepared the fine quality of table salt which we esteem so highly. It is claimed by the company that their product is not affected by dampness and can be shaken from the salt cellar on the table with ease no matter how rainy the weather may be.

In another building was a huge dump of salt waiting for cars to be shipped to the packing houses. Here too I saw another new thing. So many in our part of the land buy the grey salt chunks for stock and to good purpose but here they take the coarser product, place it in a hydraulic press and turn out blocks as hard as a rock, nine inches square on the end and eleven inches long. These are to take the place of the blocks or chunks we have been accustomed to using and are placed in pastures, feed boxes and the like for stock to lick away. Some of the salt goes into barrels, some into sacks and some into small cartoons and finds its way to the users while girls turn out thousands of sacks, small boxes containing all the way from a quarter of a pound up.

Everything about the place is kept scrupulously clean and all attention is paid to sanitation. The works employ three hundred men, run twenty-four hours a day and turn out three thousand barrels daily. There is another plant near the city with the same capacity and another half this. Think of it, seventy-five hundred barrels of salt daily going to thirteen states. Surely we ought to keep from spoiling.

Lots of Salt

They tell us that if a hundred men took the contract for themselves and offspring to shake out one year's production, for they claim it shakes as well in damp as dry weather, thru the shakers, all working twelve hours a day the children of their children's children would have to complete the task.

If all the annual production were made into the blocks I have described, fifty pounds each, and these placed on top of another, they would make a column 3205 miles high.

Here too is the hard wheat region and the huge mills which with those at Minneapolis, have spelled ruin to so many smaller concerns in our own beloved state. The city claims to handle 75 millions bushels of wheat annually, the crop of Reno county in which Hutchinson is located, being an average of three million Kansas claims to produce one-sixth of the wheat raised in the United States while the flour mills have an annual output of 1,500,000 barrels. If all the wheat were made into loaves of bread there would be671,426,570 of them and they would reach around the world 29 times.

There are five of the mills but I shall not ask the readers of the Journal to go thru them with me as they are much the same all over the country differing mainly in size. In olden days men like our honored fellow townsman, the late O. D. Fitzsimmons, millers, had diminutive black specks on the back of their fingers caused to dressing mill stones or burrs. When rollers came into use this was changed. One company in Missouri disdained the new fangled process, sold 36,000 barrels of flour at 25 cents a barrel less than they would have received for a roller product and then changed.

A REAL REPUBLICAN

The unfailing interest that W. L. Alexander has in political affairs was manifested yesterday when he went to the polling place in precinct No. 9 to cast his vote. Mr. Alexander has been very ill for a period of months and altho he is now somewhat improved, it took real interest and courage to make the journey to the polls yesterday.

Mr. Alexander has for a number years been a member of the central committee from his precinct and as many at the polls yesterday told him, it would not have seemed like a real election day without his presence. Mr. Alexander has always been listed as a "dyed in the wool" Republican and certainly lived up to his reputation yesterday.

VETERAN REPAIRMAN DIES WHILE AT WORK

Frank Jones, Proprietor of Mauvaisterre Street Shop, Found Dead in Chair.

At work to the last hour of his life, Frank Jones, 79 years old, for fifty years a general repairman and dealer in used furniture and implements in Jacksonville was discovered dead in a chair in his office, presumably of heart trouble.

At two o'clock Mr. Jones was seen at work. Between three and half past Orie Moore, porter for Graubner and Lair, came to the shop to get a pair of shears he had left to be sharpened. Seeing Mr. Jones apparently dead, he called Abner King, mechanic at the Claus garage. King notified J. F. Claus, who called Dr. King. Dr. King reported it as his finding that death had occurred between 2:30 and 3:00, probably of arteriosclerosis.

Coroner Charles A. Rose called a jury, composed of Elisworth Wells, foreman; Charles McGill, L. E. Samples, Lloyd Wells, Robert Mutch and J. R. Reynolds. Meeting at 7 o'clock, the jury returned a verdict corrsponding with the tertimony of Dr. King, Abner King and Orie Moore. Mr. King stated that he had heard indirectly that Mr. Jones had been threatened with death one night last week from a heart or similar attack.

The body was brought to the Reynolds Mortuary, where it awaits the arrival of Mrs. Albert Hurley of Peoria and Mrs. G. A. McGuire of Decatur, daughters of the deceased, for the completion of arrangements. Mr. Jones is also survived by his wife, Nancy Jones and his son, Charles F. Jones, 424 East Lafayette avenue, electrician for Doyle Brothers.

FLYING CIRCUS IS ONE OF BIG EVENTS

The American Legion Circus to Be Staged at Nichols Park Saturday Will Draw Immense Crowd.

The Jacksonville Post of the American Legion with the assitance of the Chamber of Commerce an Armistice Day celebration which is the talk of Central Illinois. The program already arranged should bring to Jacksonville the largest crowd seen here in years.

Planes loaded with literature advertising the celebration and merchants gift sale, are now engaged in bombarding this trade territory. Two planes left the field yesterday morning carrying bombs in the form of dodgers to be dropped on towns to the north. Beardstown was visited, where the planes landed after liberally covering the city with bills. The co-operation of the Beardstown Legion was secured and the sale of tickets in that part of the country arranged for. Virginia was next raided and a ship flying over the city at a heighth of about two hundred feet completely covered the town with hand bills. Today these machines will go south visiting Winchester, Roodhouse, White Hall, Murrayville, Manchester and Woodson. It is safe to say that never before in the history of Jacksonville has any events been so widely advertised.

Assurance has been given by the authorities of Scott Field that weather permitting a blimp accompanied by one or more observation planes will participate in the circus. If possible a mimic battle will be arranged between the local howitzer company and five planes flying in battle formation. This will give many thousands their first opportunity of seeing the local company in action and add interest to the event.

"Chuck" Hardin of Minneapolis probably the world's best known stunt artist and parachute dropper, has charge of the publicity of the show. Hardin who was commander of the United States Balloon Forces in Frances is perhaps the most versatile aeronaut in America today. He still holds the altitude record for hot air balloons which he annexed when seventeen years old. An experienced pilot and stunt artist he was the first man to stand on top of an aeroplane while it looped the loop. It is as a parachute jumper however that Hardin really excells, he is the best known parachute man in the country and the head of the Hardin Parachute company of Minneapolis, who in addition to supplying the government and the larger aircraft companies make practically all of the stunt "chutes" used in this country.

Kathyrn Hardin, one of the leading women pilots of the country and the best known of the lady stunt artists will tie with her husband in furnishing thrills for the crowd.

How many planes will participate in the show has not been definitely established but if the entries continue to show up it will be necessary to send to Chicago for an aeroplane con to regulate the traffic over Nichols park Saturday.

MRS. READ FUNERAL TUESDAY MORNING

Mrs. J. V. Read was laid to rest in Diamond Grove cemetery following services at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lillian King, on Sandusky street, at 10:30 Tuesday morning. A fine tribute to Mrs. Read was spoken by Rev. M. L. Pontius, partial text of which follows:

"The human soul receives comfort through the medium of the Bible. Jesus said, 'I am sent to bind up the broken-hearted.' To the Bible the soul goes in the hour of sorrow as the bird goes to its retreat during a storm.

"Human soul receives spiritual consolation during sorrow in the tender ministry of sympathetic friends. Friendship seems to ripen during the time of suffering and sorrow. When Jesus wished to bind his disciples to his great heart and life he said, 'henceforth I call you not servants, but friends.' Some suffering and bereavement would be unbearable were it not for sympathetic friendship.

"The human soul is sustained and comforted through the medium of flowers. The flower is the symbol of God's love and man's hope. The flower in its beauty and fragrance expresses Christian sympathy and it is a symbol of victory. I like to think of Mrs. Read's life as I think of a beautiful bower, blossoming and reaching its beauty and fruition in the passing of time. She who lived so well has not lived in vain. The flowers which she loved may remind you of the life which she lived. May these flowers express for you a living and a beautiful satisfying hope. May they in their brightness be foregleams of the resurrection and immortality."

A vocal solo, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," was rendered by Mrs. Helen Brown Read.

The floral tributes were in care of Mrs. F. J. Waddell, Mrs. H. M. Capps and Miss Fanny King.

MRS. SARAH COONS HAS REACHED ADVANCED AGE

Ninety Four Years Spent in Morgan and Sangamon Counties—Has Many Relatives Here.

The Springfield Register in a recent issue gave the following about Mrs. Sarah Coons who has just observed her 94th birthday. Mrs. Coons spent many years of her life in Morgan county and has numerous relatives here.

When Youth passes in the busy whirl of life as it exists in the twentieth century and listens to the voice of Age, it is well, and Youth gains both pleasure and profit. To sit beside a little smiling-eyed, silver-haired lady and gaze back, thru her eyes, across a span of ninety years, awakens thoughts of whimsical tenderness and—yes, almost of awe, for one realizes perhaps the bigness of Life and yet the smallness of it when thrown against the background of centuries.

An interview with Mrs. Sarah Coons, whose ninetieth birthday is being celebrated today with a family dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard F. Smith, 318 South State street, afforded this pleasure during the past week.

A chat with this bright, cheery little person, whose life has covered some of the most marvelous years in our nation's istory, tends to emphasize to her listener the almost miraculous growth of our America. It seems unbelieveable that one individual could begin life in a period when transportation was combined to covered wagons or ox carts, along snaky and ill marked trails and then witness the numerous stages of transition from that rude beginning to the present day luxuries motors and steam railways. The same eye has watched the growth of cities which less than a century ago were a mere handful of log huts and are now thriving bustling hives of industry. She has seen the passing of the wolves, the wild turkey, the prairie chicken and the deer which were wont to come to the very door itself in the days of the used-to-be.

Remembers First Train

Mrs. Coons can remember as tho it were only yesterday the day when the Wabash railroad put thru the first train ever seen in this part of the country. In telling of it she laughed merrily at the thought of the terrible fright the puffing monster gave her horse and of how her own attention was divided between fear for her horse and her eagerness to see the new invention. She has interesting bits of reminiscences regarding her experience with the various modes of travel down thru the yards, including oxen, mules, horses and vehicles of every sort until the day of the automobile dawned. But not content with this imposing list, she still has ambitions to some day ride in an airplane.

Then one can hear fascinating tales of the old-time threshing floors, and fan mills, the primitive reap hook and its successors, the cradle, reaper, the drop, the self binder and then the twine binder. One listens to the accounts of the fun of the husking bees and the sleighing parties and wonders if the old ways might not have been best after all. In answer to our question, "Is the world getting better or worse?" she replies: "Well, you see, dearie, there didn't used to be so many people in the world, so, of course, there weren't so many different kinds and maybe that's the reason it sort of seemed better then." One can see that Mrs. Coons doesn't want to hurt the feelings of the present generations, however, critical she may be in her heart of hearts about some things. If her opinion isn't complimentary she prefers not to give it, which is rather a sweet philosophy.

Sees Four War Periods

This calm and demure little lady has watched the rise and ebb of patriotic fervor and enthusiasm thru the periods of four wars—the Mexican, the Civil, the Spanish-American and the World War. Thus she can appreciate the contrast between the last and those preceding. Woman-like, one of the recollections of the Civil war period centers round a choice possession, a dress, the only one purchased during four years. It was of calico and cost fifty cents a yard. The great scarcity of money and the influx of paper money in every denomination even as low as a ten-cent piece is another of the interesting matters recalled. The war, of course, brings thoughts of Lincoln and his great problems and infinite suffering, as he stood battling for what he thought was right, in the face of all odds, often misunderstood, often maligned and often alone. And one remembers that such is always the fate of the leader.

Mrs. Coons, in spite of her advanced age, is bright and energetic, interested in everything and everyone. Having lived a busy and useful life, she is not content to sit idle even now, but her nimble fingers still make the knitting needles fly. She can knit an entire mitten in a day, which shows that her fingers have not lost their cunning. Patchwork is one of her delights. She already has to her credit some fifty odd quilts and is not thru yet. Fancy cushion tops composed of petal like applied bits of velvet and silks are an original creation which she loves to make and which are very beautiful. Her memory is truly marvelous, both for things of the past and the present. Page after page of poems learned at the age of eleven can be recited without a moment's hesitation. She attributes the staying qualities of this selection to the fact that the schoolmaster threatened corporal punishment if it were not learned at a certain time. The memory of that day also brings a merry laugh.

Mrs. Coons is proof that one can stop any habit of however long duration, for only recently she stopped smoking after having indulged in the habit since early womanhood, in accordance with the custom of those days. Last Sunday she attended her first moving picture show and read all the sub-titles with perfect ease. She says she is not yet a movie fan, however. Altho very modern she doesn't use paint and powder, but says there is no telling when she may.

Mrs. Coons was born on a farm nine miles north of Jackksonville on Nov. 2, 1832. Her maiden name was Sarah E. Sturgis. She married James H. Coons March 31, 1850. Her entire life has been spent in oMrgan and Sangamon counties, but by far the greater part of it in the latter. For the past six years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Smith. She is the only surviving member of a family of seven children. She has one daughter, with whom she makes her home; and four sons, John E., George B., Reune R. and Charles H., all living east of Springfield. She has twenty-nine grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren.

A family dinner is being held today in honor of her birthday, which occurred Thursday. This is an annual custom, the affair being held on Sunday to make it possible for more people to attend. Over one hundred relatives were expected to be present.

EDISON LIBRARY TO START HERE

Owners of Edison Instruments to Hear Hundreds of Records Without Charge.

One wonders sometimes just what new idea will come from the marvelous brain of Thomas A. Edison. Everyone knows that he was the pioneer of the phonograph. From the little machine with the visible horn and wax cylinder records, he developed after years of experiment, at the cost of $3,000,000, the present disc "Phonograph With a Soul." Not satisfied with having given this remarkable re-creator of music, Mr. Edison has decided to place in the homes of the Edison Owners all the Re-Creations (records) listed in the catalogue. Furthermore this service is to be asboslutely free.

This will be accomplished by means of the Edison Service Clubs. They will be told all about this service and issued membership cards by applying to Brady Brothers.

Once a month they will get at the store of Brady Brothers, who is the local Edison dealer, a set of twenty Re-Creations. These they will keep for two days to play as often as they please. The twenty Re-Creations are then returned to the dealer, are obtained by another owner, and so on thru the month. Every month each owner in this community will receive this service. The laboratory is prepared to continue the Library plan for years, and in this way Edison owners will eventually hear every Re-Creation.

This Club Plan is for Edison Phonograph owners only. It is advisable that those who have not kept the Edison dealer informed of their addresses drop him a line or phone.

There is no obligation on the part of the owner to buy, but after hearing the twenty ReCreations he may discover some which he would like to add to his Library. The sets cannot be broken, but duplicates may be ordered thru the dealer.

Employe Partnership a Big Factor in Efficiency

IN its issue of Oct. 1, 1922, the Chicago Tribune says, "In this field (industrial peace) there is much to be hoped for from intelligent effort to induce investment by employes in the industry or business in which they are employed. * * * * If the millions that have been lost in ill-advised strikes could have been invested in shares in the enterprise, the workers in many cases would have accomplished the benefits they sought."

The acknowledged efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in no small measure to the fact that every employe of the Company, if he will, may become a partner in the business by taking advantage of the stock-purchase-plan. To the amount of stock subscribed for by the employe, the Company gives one-half, and the employe is allowed to pay in small monthly installments. Thus he has an excellent investment which he can watch and help make more profitable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employes are insuring, through investment, the present well being and future security of their families, an end which every man is striving to accomplish. These men and women know that the Company is genuinely interested in furthering their welfare. Their energies, therefore, are released from worry over the future and are turned to increased efficiency that comes with enthusiasm.

Whole-hearted co-operation is essential to the conduct of any business. The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes this fact and believes that no better way to secure this co-operation can be devised than by giving every employe an opportunity to become a partner in the business. The enthusiastic response which the employes have given to this plan proves conclusively that the Company has solved a problem of importance to the Company, the employe, and the public.

There is no idle time nor decreased efficiency due to disputes, discontent, or misunderstandings to be charged into the consumers bill. Every employe of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is delivering full-time and energy to the performance of his task, and this work is to him a pleasure, not a task.

It is submitted that this is another item in that cycle of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders the public.

LOCAL COUPLE WEDDED FIFTY SIX YEARS TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Coard Celebrated Important Anniversary at Hime in this City Today.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Coard of 127 Diamond Court are today celebrating the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding day. The day will be quietly spent, only a few of their friends having been invited to be their guests at dinner today and others will doubtless call during the afternoon.

The marriage of this well known local couple took place on November 8, 1866 at the home of Rev. Mr. Strawn, the pastor of the Baptist church at Waverly. Their wedding trip was to Payson, Ill., where they visited Mr. Coard's parents for a few days. They made their home in Waverly for a period of about thirty years, when they removed to this city.

Upon coming to this city Mr. Coard embarked in the undertaking business and was for some years located in the Rowe building on East State street and later removed to West Morgan street. He retired from business life nine years ago, since which time he and Mrs. Coard have lived quietly in this city, except for about two years spent in Santa Monica, Cal.

Mr. Coard is a veteran of the civil war, having served with Co. G., 101st Illinois Infantry. He was with the troops at Vicksburg and also accompanied Sherman in his famous march to the sea.

Altho Mr. and Mrs. Coard had no children of their own, they gave a home to five orphans at various times during their married life three of them being children of Mr. Coard's deceased brother. These adopted children were Mrs. Mary Radford of Trinidad, Colo.; Mrs. Alberta Hackley of Mesa, Ariz.; Mrs. Alta Kessler of Springfield; Louis Coard, Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Coard suffered a paralytic stroke a number of weeks ago and since that time has been unable to walk, a fact which his numerous friends deeply regret. Mr. and Mrs. Coard are among the best known residents of the community and their friends unite in good wishes on this anniversary of their wedding.

CROP CONDITIONS IN GREENE COUNTY

White Hall, Nov. 7.—Apple picking has been concluded in the district about Hillview, and there will be no more number one stock to be barreled and shipped, according to the weekly crop and weather report issued at White Hall. There will be considerable handling of inferior grades of apples for bulk shipment and in the making of cider at the new mill that A. L. McClay erected and put in operation at Hillview this year.

The total shipments from Hillview shows about one-fourth of a crop, confirming forecasts as to the extent of the apple crop in Greene county. The bulk are shipped from Hillview, there being just slightly in excess of 100 cars this season, and they are scattering shipments from White Hall, Barrow and Drake.

The continued shortage of farm labor has delayed the completion of corn shucking, altho the crop is small. The condition of winter wheat is in good growing shape, and grasses have improved excellently with the rains of the week ending Monday, totaling 0.99 of an inch, divided as follows: 0.76 on the 1st, 0.05 on the 2nd and $.18 on the 5th. The mean temperature was 58.7 degrees, the highest reading being 79 on the 31st and the lowest 38 on the 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Potter and daughter of Dixon, Ill., are visiting with relatives in Jacksonville. They have been the guests of friends and relatives in Virginia during the last week.

New Eyes for Old!

There are few avenues of public service more satisfactory in their personal reward than the restoration of clear vision to those whose sight is failing.

Glasses—scientifically adapted to ailing eyes often mean the renewal of visual youth; the effective removal ob obstacles which not only result in discomfort but seriously handicap every activity to the joy of life.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY MARKET REVIEW

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 7.—Cattle — Receipts continue liberal and while the season is so far advanced that big runs cannot be expected much longer general indications are that the Southwest will clean up before another two weeks while there have been some heavy frosts cattle are still doing well on grass and this will result in a good many being held thru the winter for the second summer grazing. No quotable change was reported in prices at the outset this week. Prime steers remain scarce. Short fed steers are increasing in supply and prices for them declined 25 to 40c last week. Grass fat steers are at a low point of the season, with average quality plain. Good to choice stockers and feeder, stock calves, and stock cows and heifers are in fairly liberal supply and meeting a good demand. Common to fair stockers and feeders are on the bargain counter and selling slowly. Some 14,000 cattle and 3,000 calves were held over from last week, and they were practically all the plainer classes.

The week of the American Royal Live Stock Show a large number of choice stockers and feeders will be offered in the carlot division. These will include choice Colorados, New Mexico, and Texas offerings and it will be an excellent opportunity for feeders to get young cattle for show purposes.

The hog market started up the middle of last week and is showing business at the advance. Today's advance was 10 to 15c, top $8.25 and bulk of sales $7.90 to $8.20, and the general market is 30 to 40c above the low point last weak. Pigs and stock hogs are selling at $7.25 to $8 and a fairly liberal supply is available.

After lower prices last week the sheep market rallied today. Fat lambs are selling at $12.75 to $13.75, fat ewes $5.50 to $6.75; wethers $6.50 to $8, and feeding lambs $12 to $13.25. Feeding lambs are in fairly liberal spots but another two weeks will wind up the run of western lambs.

Market Correspondent.

MANY STORES TO CLOSE FEW HOURS SATURDAY

Committee Hears Observance of Armistice Day Will be General Aerial Circus Afternoon Feature—Interest Shown in Parade.

Plans for Armistice Day celebration in Jacksonville are progressing rapidly. The committee working under the direction of W. E. Spoonts, to close the stores for a short time during the afternoon in honor of the living and dead soldiers of the great war, met with success yesterday. The majority of the stores readily agreeing to the plan of closing the business from noon until 4 o'clock, and other stores will take the plan under advisement. This committee will finish this work today and a list of the business houses which are to close in commemoration of this great day will be published in a future edition.

Word was received yesterday from Illinois State School for the Deaf that the majority of the students will be in the line of march. The military company, Camp Fire Girls, and Boy Scouts in addition to the other students from the school will take part in the parade. Different industrial and mercantile houses and organizations have pledged floats for the parade and all labor unions and lodges have been invited to participate. The committee will meet again Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock to make final arrangements for the big affair.

The areal circus which is to be staged by the American Legion in the afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock, will be a great drawing card as it is thought that people will come from a great distance to see the dare devil stunts and witness the feats of some of America's foremost aces who will appear for the occasion.

MORE THAN HUNDRED JOIN IN CAMPAIGN

Trade Event Planned by Jacksonville Merchants Will Attract Wide Spread Interest.

One hundred and seven Jacksonville merchants have joined the big Gift Campaign, which is being sponsored by the Commercial Division of the Chamber of Commerce. This Gift Campaign is to be the bigest trade event ever held in Jacksonville and the thousands of dollars worth of gifts to be given away at the close of the campaign will be the drawing cards to bring to Jacksonville the largest volume of holiday trade on record.

The purpose of the Gift Campaign is to encourage trade at home, attract trade to Jacksonville and to extend Jacksonville's trading area. If the local merchants, through the Gift Campaign are able to accomplish these purposes of trade extension, it will be the most important thing that has been done for Jacksonville's commercial development within the last few years.

Many people, when they hear of the tempting gifts, such as automobiles, furniture, jewelry and all kinds of valuable merchandise which are to be given away, they become skeptical as to how the merchants can afford to give away such expensive gifts. Of course they immediately decide that the prices of all merchandise will be boosted in order to pay for the gifts. This, however, is not the case. On the contrary through the extension of business the merchants will be able to offer their goods at an even lower price and still give away the gifts.

The explanation of the lower prices which will be possible because of the campaign is as follows: Each year the local merchants lose a certain amount of trade at the holiday season due to the fact that many Jacksonville people go out of the city to purchase holiday goods. Also a certain portion of the trade that usually comes to Jacksonville from the outlying districts, goes to other cities during the holiday season. The larger cities of St. Louis, Springfield, and Chicago, secure a considerable amount of trade which ordinarily comes to Jacksonville.

Purpose of Campaign.

The purpose of this compaign is therefore to keep all the Jacksonville trade at home, to hold the usual trade from the surrounding territory and to gain additional trade. This additional trade at this season of the year will enable the merchants to pay his usual overhead expenses, put a lower price on his merchandise and in addition join in offering these tempting gifts to his customers.

The grand prize of the cam) paign will be the Paige 6-66 Larchmont Sport model car to be given away. Lloyd S. Reid left last eevning for Chicago to select this Paige car and see that a first class car is secured. Mr. Reid went as a representative of the Commercial Division to see that the car is fully equipped with Disteel wheels, bumpers, German silver spot light, special aluminum foot pads and other special attachments. The commercial division is spending an additional several hundred dollars on equipment to make this Paige an especially attractive car. It will take about three days for the car to be fully equiped and at the end of that time L. F. O'Donnell will go to Chicago and drive the car back to Jacksonville.

The following committee to tee the industrial concerns in the city in regard to advertising space in the Gift Campaign, was appointed yesterday: Percy Coover, Lloyd Hamilton and Merle Cain. Several additional committees were also appointed to interview merchants in regard to writing in to their wholesale firms for prizes to be displayed and given away during the Gift Campaign, through the local dealers. Henry J. Smith was appointed to take the block from the Brown music store to the Berger Motor company; Leo Johnson will take the block from Waddell's store to Berryman's tire shop and James McGinnis will have the territory from Schumm and Lonergan's to the Pacific hotel. The other territories in the business district have been previously covered.
